I graduated from Towson University with a B.S. in Organismal Biology and Ecology, after which I spent 2 years in AmeriCorps doing conservation work through the Maryland Conservation Corps (MCC). After finishing my term with MCC, I have been working at Ecotone restoring the streams and wetlands of Maryland, Virginia, Pennsylvania, and North Carolina. I believe that Beavers are the next frontier when it comes to ecological restoration, and so we must find a way to coexist!
